

We are fortunate to have safety legislation

Carrying a self-rescuer so as to not breathe poisonous gasses in the event of a mine fire or explosion was made compulsory in Queensland in July 1978.

Current legislation requires refresher training to be conducted on a regular basis. The basic training is meant to simulate a worst case scenario in the unlikely event of a mishap underground. Conducting this training for new entrants to the underground mining industry is extremely challenging.

Lennon Training take safety training for new entrants to the underground very seriously. They have constructed underground galleries at their three training centres in Emerald, Moranbah and Brisbane. Each gallery is fitted with the latest in breathing apparatus, smoke generators to simulate reduced visibility, and breathing apparatus recharging stations identical to those used at the major mines.

It is good to have legislation to protect our health and safety, but that legislation is not worth much if the training to achieve compliance is not taken seriously.

*It is a long and winding road to a safe industry.
And staying safe is not the easiest road to travel.*

as part of becoming a QLD Coal Open Cut Examiner ^

^ Terms & conditions apply

The program we offer is on an 'assessment only' basis.

The aim of the qualification RII40220 - Certificate IV in Surface Coal Mining (Open Cut Examiner) is to develop the knowledge and skills in an applicant that is required by an open cut examiner.

As this program of study meets the Australian Qualification Framework (AQF), a nationally recognised qualification will be issued.

Vocational outcome: The qualification RII40220 - Certificate IV in Surface Coal Mining (Open Cut Examiner), together with the appropriate experience, allows a candidate to sit the oral assessment conducted by the Board of Examiners. Once passed by the Board the candidate will be issued with an Open Cut Examiners Certificate of Competency.

For more information refer to the pre-enrolment student information guide which will have details on the competencies available, fees involved and enrolment application.

RII50920 program overview

as part of becoming a QLD Undermanager ^

^ Terms & conditions apply

Lennon Training offer the Diploma of Underground Coal Mining Management, a prerequisite of the Board of Examiners before being able to apply to the Board to sit the examination for a second class mine managers certificate of competency (undermanagers certificate of competency).

The Diploma requires you to attain twelve (12) Units. Ten of the twelve Units are being offered by Lennon Training. The remaining two Units (risk and one of the supervisors Units) are expected to be already held by the student.

The questions are designed around the assumption that you are an experienced deputy or an experienced supervisor performing duties similar to those assigned to an undermanager. The questions focus on the role of a shift undermanager.

Note: - Requirements for the Diploma current as of 07/12/20

This qualification complies with the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) and therefore, a nationally recognised statement of attainment will be issued on successful completion.

Vocational outcome: Second class mine manager, pending Board of Examiner written and oral assessments, site specific inductions and respective authorisations

Pre-requisites:

Due to the level of mining knowledge assumed when designing this program, you are required to have a number of years' experience in supervisory or management roles (eg an ERZ controller, underground coal supervisor or engineer with underground coal experience) to enroll in Units offered by this program. This to ensure fairness to the applying candidates.

You are required to have access to a working underground coal mine and access to the documentation that would normally be available to an ERZ controller or supervisor engaged at an underground coal mine.
